COMPANY PROFILE

Three star oxide company was formed in the year 2000. It was promoted by VIKING BATTERY INDUSTRIES an ISO 9001:2000 certified company, producing lead acid batteries for the past 30 years. Our production is based in Siliguri, West Bengal where we have our automotive as well as industrial battery making plant.

We at Three Star Oxide Co. base all our operations around the customer. That philosophy along with our vast experience in battery making, enable us to produce batteries which more often than not caters to customers every need and ensure repeat as well as referral orders from him. In our continuous strive for excellence, our R&D wing was able to develop and improve certain quality protocols which give our products excellent durability in these tropical conditions. Our team of Technical Associates constantly update and imbibe latest technological advances made in the field of lead acid battery globally after considerable bench tests in our labs. As a result of these efforts our batteries have excellent life and high reserve capacity till the end of life. And not only that, we offer batteries at lowest cost per kg battery weight in the market giving customers maximum bang for the buck he spends.

Our usage of orthorhombic starting oxide in paste making, customized ingredient concentrations in alloy for grid casting, judicious usage of performance enhancing additives, enveloping separators in battery making and a production philosophy to get it right the first time and every time helps us to make batteries meeting high standards in customer satisfaction levels.

The Company manufactures the widest range of batteries of different capacity, covering the broadest spectrum of applications. The Company has spread its business all over India. The Company has grown steadily, modernized its manufacturing processes and taken initiatives on the service front. Constant innovations have helped the Company to produce large range of batteries extending and covering various technology configurations.
